 2. Proposal is to move forward with option #3, but turn it into an open, community developed project (similar to DSpace 7 WG efforts currently)
 3. Summit attendees are in favor of adding new Entities to DSpace 7, but resources are the main question.
 4. Summit attendees proposed developing a small MVP (minimum viable product) to make this more tangible and perhaps help garner more support (via funding or resources).
 5. Key question now is finding resources and/or scoping tightly for DSpace 7.
 - ii. Sprint details were enhanced/improved based on feedback from Summit attendees
3. (Ongoing Topic) DSpace 7 Status Updates for this week (no major updates)

 - a. DSpace 6.3 Release Planning is ongoing. Thanks to those who have been helping out with tests and reviews over the last week.
 - b. As we approach the proposed deadline of May 1, more open PRs will be shifted to 6.4 as we don't have enough resource to get through them all. By April 25th, if we can get to a 'soft freeze' on 6.x merges, we can start testing a 6.3 release more thoroughly. More info at: <https://groups.google.com/forum/#!topic/dspace-devel/RbHhnhafOto>
5. Tickets, Pull Requests or Email threads requiring more attention? (Please feel free to add any you wish to discuss under this topic)

Tabled Topics

These topics are ones we've touched on in the past and likely need to revisit (with other interested parties). If a topic below is of interest to you, say something and we'll promote it to an agenda topic!

- 1. Management of database connections for DSpace going forward (7.0 and beyond). What behavior is ideal? Also see notes at DSpace Database Access
 - a. In DSpace 5, each "Context" established a new DB connection. Context then committed or aborted the connection after it was done (based on results of that request). Context could also be shared between methods if a single transaction needed to perform actions across multiple methods.
 - b. In DSpace 6, Hibernate manages the DB connection pool. Each thread grabs a Connection from the pool. This means two Context objects could use the same Connection (if they are in the same thread). In other words, code can no longer assume each `new Context()` is treated as a new database transaction.
 - i. Should we be making use of `SessionFactory.openSession()` for READ-ONLY Contexts (or any change of Context state) to ensure we are creating a new Connection (and not simply modifying the state of an existing one)? Currently we always use `SessionFactory.getCurrentSession()` in `HibernateDBConnection`, which doesn't guarantee a new connection: https://github.com/DSpace/DSpace/blob/dspace-6_x/dspace-api/src/main/java/org/dspace/core/HibernateDBConnection.java
