

Online Copyright Classes

LYRASIS and Columbia University Libraries
Virtual Copyright Education Center
Pilot Project

Copyright 101 Class Recording

Thank you for attending the live session of Copyright 101. The recording of the live session is now available in our Learning Library. Slides for the session are available here and as a PDF download in the Learning Library; click the “about” tab on the video player.

Watch the Recording

Upcoming Copyright Classes

Register for each class individually using the links below, or subscribe to LYRASIS Learning for access to all of our live, online classes and our full Learning Library.

No Fear Fair Use: Practical Fair Use for Cultural Institutions

3/10/21 3:00 – 4:30pm Eastern

Sandra Aya Enimil, Copyright Librarian and Contracting Specialist at Yale University Library

Kyle K. Courtney, Copyright Advisor at Harvard University

Copyright Limitations and Exceptions

3/24/21 1:00 – 2:30 Eastern

Lisa Macklin, Associate Dean, Research, Engagement, and Scholarly Communications for Emory University Libraries

Anne M. Young, Director of Legal Affairs and Intellectual Property at Newfields

When Copyright Ends (or Never Was): Understanding the Public Domain

4/14/21 2:00 – 3:30 Eastern

Brandon Butler, Director of Information Policy, University of Virginia Library

Greg Cram, Director of Copyright, Permissions and Information Policy, New York Public Library

Copyright in Action

4/27/21 1:00 – 2:30 Eastern

Cherie Chen, Senior Registrar for Rights and Reproductions, J. Paul Getty Museum and Rina Elster Pantalony, Director of Copyright Advisory Services, Columbia University

More classes will be scheduled between now and June; look out for more announcements or check our class schedule.

About the Virtual Copyright Education Center

LYRASIS & Columbia University Libraries are collaborating to offer online classes on copyright through a Virtual Copyright Education Center (VCEC) pilot project. This pilot is introducing new classes to enable cultural heritage professionals to move beyond a basic understanding of copyright. The pilot includes business planning with the goal of developing a sustainable service model to continue providing training. To learn more about the project, read our press release and view the VCEC Advisory Group members.

LYRASIS is a technology and services membership 501(c)(3) non-profit supporting enduring access to our shared academic, scientific and cultural heritage through leadership in open technologies, content services, digital solutions and collaboration with archives, libraries, museums and knowledge communities worldwide. With 1,700+ institutions supporting LYRASIS's 10 Community Supported Programs and another 300+ institutions that use its hosting and migration services, members enjoy the economies of scale and the shared benefit coming from the effect of networks.

LYRASIS | 1438 West Peachtree Street, NW, Suite 150, Atlanta, GA 30309