

DSpace Working Groups

Working Group Objectives

DSpace Working Groups are teams which are created to achieve a specific set of deliverables. They are created / established with a specific action in mind, often by either the Steering Group or an Interest Group. Working Groups tend to have the following properties:

- They have a definitive start and end date
- They have a definitive set of deliverables or expected output
- They often report back to whatever Project Team established the Working Group (usually either the Steering Group or an Interest Group)

Existing Working Groups

- DSpace 7 Entities Working Group
- DSpace 7 Marketing Working Group
- DSpace 7 Working Group
- DSpace Entities Working Group — Working group is retired. Next phase of this work (creating Configurable Entities for DSpace 7) has moved over to the DSpace 7 Entities Working Group.
- DSpace GDPR Working Group
- DSpace UI Prototype Working Group — Working group is retired. Next phase of this work (creating the DSpace 7 UI) has moved over to DSpace 7 Working Group
- Telling DSpace Stories \(TDS\) Work Group