Notes

- Mike chaired the meeting at Julia's request
- Welcome to new and returning Leadership Group members.
 - Christian - newly elected community rep, hosting a German national VIVO workshop on Sept. 17 and 18
 - Violeta - newly elected community rep
 - Alex - reelected community rep
 - Hannah - reelected bronze rep
- Technical initiatives doc
 - Mike: We've removed a couple that have already been done. The first 3 are underway via the Task Force process.
 - Javed: ontology improvement task force - we worked to bring together ontologies into a single file. We can finally point at it.
 - Mike: We've added another 35 to do items, one of which is accessible themes. I get one inquiry per month asking about VIVO's accessibility.

- Spreadsheet: column for impact and effort, which would be a score from 1-10. Another column is component.
- Mike: Julia suggested a first scoring should be done by a small group, but I'm happy that anyone could do that.
- Paul: I care about Product Evolution efforts including performant index and refined interface.
- Javed: I'm noticing some initiatives that are short-term and others that are more long-term.
- Jean: the process sounds fine.
- Hannah: I think we should note dependencies.
- DJ: process looks good.
- Doug: nothing to add
- Christian: I can add some info and will provide info.
- Ann: it's important to get wider input
- Anna: Happy to see the process
- Mike/Terrie: if we're going to address grant funding, we would need to look to how these features could be incorporated into core.
- Mike to send out a request for scoring. There will then be a scoring and reconciliation process among the scorers
- Procedure for Steering Group members
 - Mike: thanks for everyone voting. We had votes from all but one people eligible to vote. Nice job, all.
 - The nominations for Steering Group comes from the Leadership group. We will be opening up nominations this afternoon. Nominations will be open for 7 days.
- Grant funding
 - Violeta: I need access to the folder but that probably needs to be fixed at the top level.
 - Mike: JenaConnectifier and ReCiter could be included in VIVO Combine.
 - Mike: we're of course interested in European grant opportunities.
 - Christian: we had some problems finding programs that are applicable to both US and European countries. You don't exactly qualify as a developing country.
 - Mike: this will always be a problem. It's difficult to have international participation in grants unless it's specifically called for.... Sometimes funders including foundations are more amenable to negotiation.
 - Erin: That has been my experience working with the Mellon Foundation.
 - Violeta: sometimes you can ask personal contacts, "How does this idea sound?"
 - Erin: I have contacts at IMLS. That might be appropriate.
 - Tom: Mellon is very much into open science. Sloan is more into community and the arts, and they may be more of a stretch. Same with IMLS.
 - Violeta: I have some contacts at Sloan.
 - Mike: we should remember that this is potential funding for people at your institution. Securing funding can help change the conversation at the institution.
 - Tom: How does this Grants sheet overlap with the technical initiatives and product evolution group, if at all? (It seems to me that Product Evolution is a grantable activity)
 - Tom: is everyone who can/should comment on this doc within Leaders? I wonder about if and when it might be surfaced to others in the VIVO community not on this call
With Mellon and Sloan, yes.... Mike: I'm fine with opening it for editing. Christian: the Danish people are very successful with funding. I would consider posting it to everyone. Terrie: I think it would be helpful if we targeted specific people in the organization.
 - Mike: if you want to see something in the VIVO Updates, send me something by Saturday.
- Mike: any future items you would like to see?
 - Violeta: VIVO marketing
 - Erin: ResearchGraph
 - Tom: when will there be a proposal for the next conference?
 - Mike: we're expecting proposals on August 6.
 - Tom: we were also thinking about a research intelligence conference in North America.
 - Mike: yes, I think that might be worth exploring.
 - Tom: there's an opportunity to combine with the Pure user group.
