

2019-06-10 Open Repositories - Fedora Workshop

Where

Edmund-Siemers-Allee 1
East Wing, Room 122

When

10 June 2019
13:30 - 17:00

Preparations

TBD

Agenda/Presentations

Time	Topic	Presenter
13:30 - 13:45	Introductions and application setup	All
13:45 - 15:00	Introduction to Fedora 5.0	David Wilcox Andrew Woods
15:00 - 15:30	Break
15:30 - 16:00	Introduction to Fedora 5.0 continued	David Wilcox Andrew Woods
16:00 - 16:45	Modeling with PCDM in Fedora	David Wilcox
16:45 - 17:00	Wrap-up and discussion

Resources

Summary

Fedora is a flexible, extensible, open source repository platform for managing, preserving, and providing access to digital content. The Fedora community recently released version 5.0, which brings the software into alignment with the recently published API specification. Both new and existing Fedora users will be interested in learning about and experiencing new Fedora features and functionality first-hand.

For more information, please contact David Wilcox .