

Fedora on OSGi

Overview

Fedora on OSGi is new project that aims to refactor Fedora into an OSGi application. The project's goals include

1. Provide a modular platform that enables runtime management and deployment of modules
2. Support the wider developer community by encouraging and easing development of new modules
3. Provide a base for collaborative development of services across the Fedora and DSpace repository platforms

Support

- The mailing list for Fedora on OSGi is located at <http://groups.google.com/group/fcrepo-osi/>
- Issues (b
 - Could not retrieve <http://www.fedora-commons.org/files/colliis/issueview.jsp?request=/searchRequest.jsp?requestId=10051&resolution=-1&component=10114&sorter/field=updated&sorter/order=DESC&tempMax=1000> - Page not found.

Developer Resources

Use Cases