

software

DOWNLOAD the current version of Fedora

Software

The Fedora Commons repository system is the core of a burgeoning collection of community developed software, providing a powerful, flexible foundation for a wide variety of information management applications.

The Fedora Commons Repository Service

The Fedora Commons Repository service is an open-source product developed through a community-based process, led by DuraSpace, that continuously improves and maintains the core software.

- Current Release
- Previous Releases
- Future Release Roadmap
- Licensing
- Performance Testing
- Software Contributors

Fedora-Create Community Software

DuraSpace also provides an infrastructure for sharing information about community-developed software, organized in the following categories.

- End User Apps: Simple Interfaces to Complete Solutions
- Services & Utilities
- Libraries, Frameworks and APIs
- Content Models
- Workflow Components
- Plug-ins
- Serializations