

VIVO Conference 2021 Task Force

Status

Forming.

Context

The VIVO Conference is the major annual event for knowledge exchange and networking in the VIVO Community. Regarding the current situation with the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic being a threat to large parts of the world, it seems reasonable to continue with a virtual conference for this year, after our successful 2020 conference. In this task force we will organize this virtual event.

By hosting a virtual event, we hope to engage people who would not typically be able to attend a VIVO Conference.

Objectives

- Organize the technical framework for a virtual conference
- Find a suitable format for this event
- Establish technical and organizational support before, during and after the event.

Deliverables

- a virtual VIVO conference with an attractive program

Suggested schedule

Perhaps the conference can be in mid/late June?

Develop charter	Done
Solicit members and schedule first meeting
Develop action items, assign to team members
Schedule the conference; communicate save the date
VIVO 2021 Conference	TBA

Members

- Mike Conlon (University of Florida, facilitator)
- Christian Hauschke (TIB)
- Anna Guillaumet (SIGMA)
- Michele Mennielli (LYRASIS)
- Andrew Woods (LYRASIS)
- Ralph O'Flinn (Ind.)

Meeting Times

TBA. Last year we met US morning, European afternoon. 10 AM US Eastern Time, Tuesdays.

Communication Channels

- Distribute proposed charter and solicit participation from community via vivo-community@googlegroups.com
- Slack channel #vivo2021-organisation. Join VIVO Slack here: <http://bit.ly/vivo-slack>
- Conference communication through Twitter (VIVO LG), conference web site (<http://vivoconference.org>), email lists.

Agendas and Notes