<eddies> i think i lost my connection
<eddies> everyone else still there?
<ajs6f> I just lost it too.
<ajs6f> Trying to reconnect.
<eddies> freeconferencecall seems to be having issue
<eddies> +s
<Dan_Davis> I am out too.
<ajs6f> Phooey.
<cwilper> yep...they've been spotty lately. time to look for another provider. i can't reconnect either.
<ajs6f> Hookay. Well, was that the end of discussion on releasing 3.6?
<cwilper> shall we finish just via irc?
<eddies> ok. well, i don't think i have anything further to add about testing 3.6 that can't wait
<ajs6f> Let's keep going via IRC< anyway.
<eddies> i need to swap to this hydra call now, though
<ajs6f> Bye, Eddie.
<eddies> i'll try to catch up on irc after
<ajs6f> Thanks for taking a bullet for me.
<ajs6f> The only other agenda items were re: OR2012.
<ajs6f> Chris-- any news re: the logistics for the face-to-face?
<cwilper> Ok, summary of the last bit: Code freeze Sunday night. Testing and docs 'till the 19th, shooting for the 19th for release. This should ensure we get it out by our ultimate goal date of the 26th, with time for issue-fixing built in.
<cwilper> No more news on the face-to-face. But I was hoping to get a sense for how many of us are going to actually be there. I assume you're planning on it, Adam? I got the sense that Eddie will be there too.
<ajs6f> Yep, I'm in.
<ajs6f> Additionally, I've been talking with Martin Dow (who, along with Steve Bayliss)
<ajs6f> has been very involved with Apache Stanbol/IKS. I'd like to try to set up some kind of <cwilper> Ahh, I see you and I are the two listed on https://wiki.duraspace.org/display/FCREPO/July+9th+2012%2C+OR12+Committer+Meeting so far...

<ajs6f> Fedora vs. SemWeb BOAF after the "formal" face-to-face.
<ajs6f> Yes, well, maybe it'll just be you and myself, Chris, and then we can just decide what Fedora 4 will look like ourselves.
<cwilper> Sounds great. I say we go scala all the way. Either that or Eiffel. Tough choice.

- cwilper ducks
  <ajs6f> Clojure! Clojure! Clojure!
  <cwilper> asger: good to see you. we were just wrapping up the committer call, talking about who's planning on being at the OR committer meeting. Are you able?
  <asger> I plan on attending OR
  <cwilper> So far the committer meeting is planned for the 9th. All day if we need it. Or if there's interest, like Adam suggests, maybe we could split off into mini-BOF sessions later in the day (one being Fedora+SemWeb)
  <cwilper> ajs6f: btw I talked w/Jonathan after I got back...sounds like I'll be heavily involved in the APTrust stuff. Will probably be coming to C'ville again real soon.
  <ajs6f> APTrust is very likely to depend heavily on CloudSync, and that's your bag, right?
  <cwilper> indeed.
