Reminder: new site for networking about VIVO implementations and related tools

Vincent set up a VIVO.IS-BY.US site on Amazon AWS to serve as a demo and a place to put information about VIVO exploration and implementation efforts (as well as production sites). We will provide log in information on the call and encourage all sites to put information about the version of VIVO they are running, the people involved, and additional tools used.

Feedback is welcome on what else could be added – e.g., skills, data sources, needs, job descriptions
