

Faculty User Type

Faculty as a User Type

The 'faculty user type' is a member of the teaching, research, or extension faculty at a VIVO educational institution or the senior-level researcher at a government agency. While some may be new to the institution, the persons encompassing this type of user normally have the highest visibility at the institution, the least time to edit, and are among the most important people for a VIVO to please.