Challenges for data ingest

back up to How to plan data ingest for VIVO

previous topic: Typical ingest processes

- The structure of the data (schema) is slippery.
 A software upgrade in the providing organization can result in a change in the schema.
 The providing organization may not know how their data is structured.
 A personal relationship with the database administrators in the providing organization can be very helpful.
 Add automated monitoring.
- - O Hopefully with warnings if the data schema changes.
