Agenda

Terry Brady will moderate the November 14th call.

- Brainstorm 2018 discussion topics for DCAT
 - What information would you like to share?
 - What aspects of the system would you like to learn more about?
 - View the DCAT meeting archives for possible discussion ideas.
- Updates from the group - what projects are you working on with your repository?
 - IIIF and DSpace
 - Other updates?
 - Is anyone from the Entities Working Group on the call?
- DSpace 7 updates
 - Tim Donohue provided the following update.
 - The DSpace 7 team has been concentrating efforts recently on Search & Submission functionality. The UI Mockups for both are on the Wiki: <https://wiki.duraspace.org/display/DSPACE/DSpace+7+UI+Mockups>. In recent weeks, much of the effort has been on the backend (i.e. REST API) of these features, so they are not yet available to demo in full. However, a very early version of Search is now on the Angular UI demo site: <https://dspace7-demo.atmire.com/home> (this is not yet feature complete, but it works at a basic level). The latest goal is to attempt to have demo-able early versions of these features by the end of the year (if not sooner).
 - After Search & Submission, we will be moving on to Authentication / Authorization features. In fact, early work on a "stateless" Authentication implementation has been started at the REST API layer (see this PR: <https://github.com/DSpace/DSpace/pull/1873>). But, this work is not yet complete and not yet utilized by the Angular UI layer.
 - If anyone has staff/developers interested in getting more involved, we could use more resources (which would also help us to move more rapidly). Currently the DSpace 7 Dev team is still rather small, and is primarily Atmire and 4Science staff members, along with occasional Angular UI help from William Welling at Texas A&M (and coordination by myself). We could use folks who are interested in helping to develop/design either the REST API or Angular UI (or both).

Preparing for the call
