

Searching

Overview

During the development of Muradora, we have been trying to make information stored in Fedora repository as accessible as possible. In Muradora, you can either search for objects/collections or browse them by titles, author, date created or date modified.

Searching for objects/collections

Muradora includes a search form on almost every single page. You simply enter a search term in the textbox click on "Search". By default, Muradora will execute the search on a number of object's fields including PID, name, author and description, and most importantly full-text on search many document types (PDF, TXT files and Word documents). Muradora has built-in faceted search capability allowing you to quickly filter search results by author, subject, title and type. Many of these search capabilities are fully customizable by the system administrator to meet the need of the repository end-users.
